John:

It's been about five years now that we've been working together. Over this time you've played an important role in quite a number of criminal defense matters handled by my firm. I've come to regularly rely on you as integral part of my defense team. You are unfailingly professional, your examinations and reports are first-rate, and you've always been flexible and generous with your time—even accompanying me once to Rikers Island to perform an examination there. Remember that day?

In my experience your work is often the difference between a “no prosecute” versus charges being filed, or a plea agreement that is favorable versus one that is unfavorable. I just wanted to send a brief note of thanks. You've been a pleasure to know and work with all this time, and I look forward to many more years of doing so.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

SALVATORE PASZYNSKY
