Dear Mr. Ross,

I want to take the time to thank you for your service. It was evident when we arrived that you were very experienced and knowledgeable in this field. However, I feel you also took the time to address the emotional distress of the situation. I can tell you that over a year in marital therapy with a psychiatrist did not help me understand the "why this ugly girl?" question that was continually popping up in my head. You not only explained the answer in a way that finally made sense to me, but made me feel good about myself ("he didn't need a pretty girl, he had you at home")

The results of the test showed he was truthful... Guess I'll keep 'em around for a while.

Thank you,
Laura
